

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

UNITED SERVICE INSTITUTION OF INDIA

LIBRARY.

RULES AND NOTICES.

1. The Library is only open to Members of the United Service Institution of India, and Members are requested to look upon books and maps as not transferable to their friends.

2. A Member will not be allowed to have from the Library, at one time, more than three books or sets of books, and 2 maps.

3. Books and maps are only issued between the hours of 10 A.M. and 5 P.M. during the summer, and 10-30 A.M. and 4-30 P.M. during the winter.

4. Books and maps taken from or returned to the Library are to be entered in the book kept for the purpose.

5. Books and maps for 3 months after receipt will be treated as New Books. These, together with all the works under the heading I.—Cyclopædic, and all books and maps noted as Confidential or Reference only must not be removed from the Reading-Room.

6. No particular limit is set to the number of days for which a Member may keep a book or map, the Council being desirous of making the Library as useful as possible to such Members as may be undergoing any particular course of study ; but at the same time if, within a fortnight of the issue of a book or map to any Member, the book or map is required by any other Member, the Secretary is authorized to desire its immediate return for fresh issue.

9-29-36 MFP

7. Lost and defaced books or maps shall be replaced at the cost of the Members to whom they were issued. A book or map shall be held to be lost when a member omits to return it on receipt of a registered cover from the Secretary; and on the expiry of 2 weeks (in the case of Members residing in England, 3 months) from the despatch of such a cover, if reasonable explanation be not forthcoming, a new copy shall be bought and charged in the Member's account. In the case of lost books that are out of print, the value shall be fixed by the Executive Sub-Committee and the amount, when received, spent in the purchase of a new book.

8. Members are invited to note any books or maps which they think might with advantage be procured for the Institution. A list of the books or maps thus suggested will be submitted periodically to the Executive Sub-Committee, and action taken as may be deemed advisable.

9. Presents of books and maps are solicited. These may be sent "bearing" to the Secretary who will note them as "presented," and duly acknowledge their receipt.

10. The issue of a book or map under these Rules to any Member implies the latter's compliance with the Rules and his willingness to have them, if necessary, enforced against him.

Note.

THE accompanying list of books—incomplete as it is and open to much revision—is published under the authority of the United Service Institution of India, in the hope that it may prove of service to those whose duty or pleasure calls them to refer to such a list. It forms but a small section of a bibliography of English military literature, now in the course of preparation, the first volume of which, dealing with technical works printed up to 1642, has already appeared.

It is obvious that the following list must be far from representing the total number of books published on the subject. Many omissions, and these important ones, will doubtless be noticed. But such lapses are due not always to a book failing to come under my notice, but frequently to the fact that the title is not indicative of military contents. Many of the items are, perhaps, of little historical value, but in hands which know how to use them, even from those which appear to be the most worthless, something may be gleaned.

All books that the compiler has been able to examine himself have been treated bibliographically and are marked with an asterisk. The accuracy of the titles or dates of the others given cannot be answered for, but there is strong evidence to show that such books do or did exist.

With one or two exceptions, all books marked with a preliminary* are to be found in the Library of the United Service Institute.

Any corrections or additions that may occur to the reader in glancing through the list will be gratefully received.

"It is one of the most valuable not only of the recent, but of all the narratives written by actors in the Mutiny. For the story of Lucknow it is an original authority of first-rate importance; and the author's critical sketch of the Mutiny as a whole if it does not always command assent, may be read with great profit."—Holmes' "Indian Mutiny," p. 634.

The historical materials which I have moulded into this history, Kaye says, "are rather of a private than of a public character. I have made but little use of recorded official documents. I do not mean that access to such documents has not been extremely serviceable to me, but that it has rather afforded the means of verifying or correcting statements received from other sources than it has supplied me with original materials."
